The Call Committee is up and running with the purpose of “finding the absolute best principal for our school”. Member of the committee are:

It is an excellent group that I know will represent you well. If you have any comments for them, let me know – or feel free to pass along your comments directly to them (e-mail’s provided!).

Our time line is to have candidates identified over the next week and then begin the process of receiving written information. We are hoping to do personal interviews the first week of June and have a finalist selected by the middle of June. All of this is covered in prayer and knowing full well that we will submit to whatever it is the Lord has in mind. If we need to slow down the process, we are certainly open to that. But already many of you have submitted names, so we are hopeful that we will identify God’s choice quickly.

I have continued to be active at the high school. I have been out there weekly since I started a year ago and plan on continuing that practice. Mr. Bahr will continue to run the day to day operations through June. We will shortly identify a faculty member that will be available during the summer to handle any of your questions and make sure we are doing the absolute best that we can.

Recruiting of new students is really important this time of year – and we could use your help! LCL is an amazing place because of some amazing people – faculty, students and parents. That isn’t changing. While the process to select a new principal can be a little scary, we know that God is in control and will guide us through this adventure. Keep telling your friends what a great place LCL is!

Again, if you have any questions or comments at all, please don’t hesitate to contact me. Better yet, come up and say “hi” at the spaghetti dinner and concert this coming Saturday.

God’s richest blessings to you.
